Description Pair of round, pressed lacy-pattern colorless lead glass dishes. Each dish has a flared, scalloped rim, S-curved sides, and a circular foot. The top of the dish has no raised pattern; the underside is pressed with a pattern in the rococo revival style. This pattern consists of symmetrical sprays of leaves around a central star. The side of each dish has four evenly spaced scrolled cartouches. Each cartouche has a small star in the center, surrounded by diamond hatching. Between each cartouche, there are sprays of leaves and stars, all on a stippled, or lacy-pattern, background. Each dish has multiple small chips to the scalloped edge. Dish .308 has one medium-size chip to the edge, while dish .309 has two medium-size chips.
