

Basic Detail Report

Title Phineas T. Barnum, Connecticut Yankee Extraordinary, Presents

Tom Thumb to the Queen of England

Date 1947

Medium Drawing; ink and gouache with graphite on white wove paper mounted to board

Description Drawing of two men meant to represent P. T. Barnum and Charles Stratton (General Tom Thumb) being presented at court. The two men stand, slightly bowing, facing a woman wearing a crown, meant to be Queen Victoria, seated next to a man meant to be her husband Prince Albert. There are other people in the background, and part of a chandelier and curtains are visible.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (height x width): 22 x 15in. (55.9 x 38.1cm)