

Basic Detail Report

Title Construction Work, possibly Stony Creek, Branford, Connecticut

Date early 20th century

Medium Photography; gelatin silver print on paper

Description Men are at work, building what appears to be a granite railroad bed.

Steam issues from machinery in the foreground near tall cranes or derricks.

There appears to be a second engine of some sort in the right background. Two two-horse teams are at the left, near a wooden building.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 6 x 8in. (15.2 x 20.3cm)

Sheet (height x width): 6 3/8 x 8 3/8in. (16.2 x 21.3cm)