

Basic Detail Report

Title Flood of 1876, Norwich, Connecticut

Date 1876

Primary Maker George Anderson

Medium Photography; albumen prints on paper on cardboard mounts

Description Photographs of the spring freshet of 1876 show the flooding along the Thames and Shetucket Rivers and in downtown Norwich. One photograph shows the Norwich and Worcester Railroad Yard almost completely under water. Other photographs show debris piled up above the iron railroad bridge. Another shows men in a boat outside the store of John C. Perkins and a Gents Dining Room. Other photographs show damage following the flood, including damage to a factory. Part of the John S. Craig Collection.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 4 1/2 x 7in. (11.4 x 17.8 cm) or smaller Sheet (height x width): 4 1/2 x 7in. (11.4 x 17.8cm) or smaller

Mount (height x width): 4 1/2 x 7in. (11.4 x 17.8cm) or smaller