THE DELUGE.

"And every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowls of the heaven, and they were destroyed from the earth: and Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark."

Gen. Chap. VII. 23.
