

I pray thee, cease thy quarrel
 May your deeds approve
 Let thy fair wisdom, not thy passion, say
 Thou wert born a fool
 Best thou learn meekness out of faults
 Parson is still the nurse of second-ary
 In time we hate that which we often fear
 Mercy but murders pardoning those that kill
 I pray thee, cease thy quarrel
 My griefs are heavier than sorrowment
 Incensary falls off ere it be long
 The flower that smiles on all
 We must take the current when it serves
 NO EXCUSE
 BELIEVE
 I MEAN WELL
 Friendship

Albany 12 August 1799
 24 Jacob Morris Esquire

Basic Detail Report

Title Stickers on Card

Date 1799

Primary Maker Jacob Morris

Description A card with a variety of stickers that have different messages on them. Handwritten in black ink on front: "Albany 12 August 1799 Jacob Morris Esquire."

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (height x width): 6 1/4 × 3 1/4in. (15.9 × 8.3cm)