Title Grey House and Red Barn

Primary Maker Louis Grosvernor Frink

Medium Drawing; pencil, watercolor, and gouache on brown paper on cardboard

Description A large grey house with a central stone chimney and multiple windows stands prominently at the center of the drawing bordered by stone walls. In the same enclosure to the right is a small red structure with large semi-open wooden doors and a smaller dark structure to the side. To the left of the main grey house are three tall, lush trees and a black and white house. Multiple paths lead directly to and from the houses. The landscape is vividly verdant.

Verso is painted many shades of greens and has the outlines of a man wearing a black jacket.
