

Basic Detail Report

Title Figured Flask

Date about 1835

Primary Maker Chase family

Medium Mold-blown aquamarine glass

Basic Detail Report

Description Figured flask made of mold-blown aquamarine glass. The flask has a double collar at the rim, a cylindrical neck, a rounded body with a flattened profile, and a flat bottom. One side of the flask has a raised decoration of a tree with many branches and leaves, and a slender trunk. The opposite side of the flask has a raised decoration of the same shape of tree, but with leafless branches, and a bird on a branch to the left. A smooth, raised rib outlines the outer edges of the figured flask, between the sides with the raised decoration. The side with the leafy tree has a crack that runs from the bottom up to the right and curls toward the tree.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (height x width x depth): 6 x 3 3/4 x 1 1/2in.
(15.2 x 9.5 x 3.8cm)