

Basic Detail Report

Title United States Navy Service Khaki Uniform

Date 1986-2001

Primary Maker Blauer Manufacturing Co., Inc.

Medium Wool, polyester, cotton, metal, brass plastic

Basic Detail Report

Description Official United States Navy service khaki uniform worn by Matthew Woods. Uniform consists of a (a) khaki jacket, (b) khaki short sleeve shirt, (c) khaki pants, (d) khaki cap, and (e) khaki belt. This is the daily working uniform worn on the ship or in the winter. (a) The jacket is a Blauer brand jacket, size

44R, featuring a fold-down collar, epaulets, two side pockets, one interior pocket on the proper right front, and a metal zipper closure at the center front.

There are plastic button tabs at the sides and sleeve cuffs for fit. (b) The uniform shirt is an XXL Flying Cross brand khaki-colored poly-wool blend shirt with short sleeves, two breast pockets with button flaps, and an open collar forming a V-neck. The shirt features a six plastic button closure at the front, there are no exterior patches or insignia currently affixed. There is a Flying Cross brand label at the interior center back neckline. (c) The khaki pants are Davis brand, they are constructed from polyester with fore and aft creases, belt loops, a zippered fly front closure. There are four pockets: two side and two rear pockets. There is a

Davis brand label on the interior proper right back pocket. (d) Cap is a khaki

Bancroft brand size 7 fore and aft (garrison) cap made of a poly-wool blend. (e)

Belt is khaki colored cotton with a brass belt clip, the belt tip area is has plastic tape attached creating a tab.

Dimensions Component ((a) jacket length x width): 24 1/2 × 20in. (62.2 × 50.8

cm) Component ((b) shirt length x width): 35 1/4 × 21in. (89.5 × 53.3cm)

Component ((c) pants length x circumference): 32 1/2 × 36in. (82.6 × 91.4cm)

Component ((d) cap length x height x circumference): 10 1/4 × 4 1/4 × 22in. (26

× 10.8 × 55.9cm)