

Basic Detail Report

Title The Kellogg & Bulkeley Co. Lithographers, Designers & Wood Engravers.

Date about 1885

Primary Maker Kellogg & Bulkeley

Medium Lithography; printer's ink on wove paper

Description A large assortment of vignettes are arranged in rows within an ornamental border. Large images include the Connecticut State Capitol, an angel with a shield that reads "PROTECTION" flying over a factory and sailing ships, an eagle on a globe with a banner that reads: "WORLD MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.", and the Charter Oak. Other vignettes include a building under construction; office buildings; commercial buildings; factories, including the Colt Firearms Manufacturing Company; portraits of Daniel Webster and Queen

Basic Detail Report

Victoria; allegorical figures; animals, including horses, deer, a pelican, and a

Newfoundland dog; historical events, including the landing of the Pilgrims;

railroad trains; the Connecticut State Seal; Mount Etna from Taormina

(presumably based on the Thomas Cole painting in the Wadsworth Atheneum);

and a horse-drawn fire engine.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 21 5/8 x 27 11/16in.

(54.9 x 70.3cm) Sheet (height x width): 24 1/8 x 29 13/16in. (61.3 x 75.7cm)