The line KQ and PQ (the former 3 feet 6 inches south of the south line of the street, and the latter 6 feet north of the north line of the street), represent Building Lines, established by the Court of Common Council.

Description Pratt Street in Hartford, Connecticut, between Main and Trumbull

Streets, oriented south-north on the sheet, with squares showing the locations of buildings along the street. The name of the owner or business is provided, along with the distance in feet from a specific point on the property (the water table, brick work, basement, etc.) to the northeast and northwest corner for those properties on the south side of the street and the southeast and southwest corner for those on the north side. At each of the corners are pairs of letters. A note below the map states that the lines of Pratt Street are building lines established by the Court of Common Council.
