

Basic Detail Report

Celebrating the Diversity of

Northeastern Connecticut!

If your school or organization is seeking local resources to enhance your own multicultural education activities, please consider including the Quinebaug Valley's finest cultural performing arts group as part of your program.
Killingly Public Schools'

Lao Traditional Dancers

is a vibrant example of the celebration of diversity in our society and has performed for enthusiastic audiences throughout the state and region for the past 5 years... for public PreK - high school students in two dozen schools throughout eastern Connecticut; at UCONN and Yale; for the combined Granges of the Quinebaug Valley; at professional educators' conferences in Farmington and Newport, RI; for the Polish American Citizens' Club in Webster, MA; and at the Southeast Asian Water Festival in Lowell, MA. Teacher packet available for pre-performance orientation.

For further information or to inquire about arranging for a performance in your school or community, please contact Mr. Phonekeo at Killingly Intermediate School, 779-6712.

A Celebration of Multicultural Arts and Ambassadors

sponsored by the
Killingly Public Schools
in collaboration with the Lao Parents' Association of Danielson

Title Flyer: Lao Traditional Dancers in Northeastern Connecticut

Date c. 2002

Medium paper

Description Flyer for Lao Traditional Dancers in Northeastern Connecticut.