Title Man's Shirt

Date about 1930

Primary Maker Christopher Battalino

Medium Machine-stitched cotton, with plastic buttons, brass studs, and gold-plated cuff links

Description Man's shirt of white cotton with a woven double rib created by a heavier thread. The shirt has a plastron of vertically pleated plain cotton in front, and a sharply pointed three-inch-wide collar, also of plain cotton. The center front opening fastens with white plastic buttons at top and bottom, and with small, brass, ball-shaped studs in the plastron. The long sleeves end in French cuffs of the plain cotton. The gold-plated cuff links are engraved with a monogram. The front and back panels of the shirt are curved at the side seams. The back panel of the shirt is gathered in two areas into the shoulder yoke to provide ease.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (length x width across shoulders): 31 1/4 x 13in. (79.4 x 33cm)
