Medium Drawings; pencil and black ink on tracing paper

Description Plans for a two-story frame house include drawings of front, rear, and side elevations, and floor plans for the cellar, first, second, and attic levels.

Rooms noted on the cellar floor plan are a laundry, cold, and two coal rooms. On the first level floor plan, the architect included a porch, veranda, dining room, living room, butler's pantry, kitchen, den, closets, porch, and pantry. The second level includes three chambers (bedrooms), sewing room, hall, two bathrooms, closets, window seat, balcony, and stairwell. Three chambers, a storage area,
