Basic Detail Report

Title Puppet Theatre, Danbury Fair

Date about 1975

Primary Maker R. W. Mannion

Medium Photography; gelatin silver print on paper

Description Children are watching puppets representing a matador and a bull on the stage of a "Puppet Theatre" that occupies the stern of a small boat with smokestacks and railing in imitation of an old-fashioned steamboat. Some of the children appear to be African-American. A large toy giraffe is in the window of a barn in the left background. A picket fence, a crowd of people, and trees, including a large pine tree, are in the right background.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 7 3/4 x 9 1/2in. (19.7 x 24.1cm) Sheet (height x width): 8 x 10in. (20.3 x 25.4cm)