Title Views of the Wallingford Tornado

Date 1878

Primary Maker David French

Medium Photography; albumen prints on paper on cardboard mounts

Description Photographs show the wreckage of buildings and uprooted trees in the aftermath of the tornado. Views include Main Street, the Parmalee House, "Monson's place," and the school house. A camera is on the ground in the foreground of one photograph. Many photographs include people, chiefly men, presumably largely daytrippers who had come to view the damage. Part of the John S. Craig Collection.
