Title The New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad Company, Operated and Controlled Lines

Date about 1900

Primary Maker Rand Avery Supply Co.

Medium Lithography; black printer's ink on wove paper

Description Map of Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and the New York City and Hudson River area of New York and New Jersey. The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company lines are the main focus of the map, with the network extending from New York into Hartford, Providence and Boston, as well as the smaller towns. All of the stops are shown as white circles, and are labeled with the name of the town. Most of the lines themselves are not labeled, with the exception of the Central New England line. The Long Island Sound steamer is marked with a broken solid line. On the back are timetables for routes between points in Connecticut and between Hartford and Springfield, Massachusetts.
