

Basic Detail Report

Title Map of the Town of Waterbury, New Haven County, Connecticut

Date 1852

Primary Maker H. Irvine

Medium Lithography; black printer's ink and watercolor on wove paper mounted on fabric

Description Map of the town of Waterbury, Connecticut, with Watertown, Plymouth, and Wolcott to the north and east; Naugatuck, Prospect, and Cheshire to the south; and Middlebury and Watertown to the west. The town is divided into ten districts, including the central borough. Inset maps show the villages of Waterbury and Waterville. Rivers, including the Naugatuck River and the Mad River, are shown, along with brooks and ponds. Elevation is indicated by hachure marks. Names of property owners and businesses are indicated. The Naugatuck Railroad parallels the Naugatuck River. Vignettes depict Abbott &

Basic Detail Report

Wardwell Manufacturing Company, Brown's Hotel, Warren & Newton

Manufacturing Company, American Pin Company, the High School, Waterbury

Knitting Company, St. Paul's Chapel, Wm. R. Hitchcock & Co. Button Factory,

Mattatuck Manufacturing Company, Brown & Elton Brass Rolling Mill, Waterbury

Brass Company, Unionville Factory, Scovill Manufacturing Company, Scovill

House, the Baptist Church, the Methodist Church, Waterbury Hook & Eye

Company, Lane Manufacturing Company, Benedict & Burnham Manufacturing

Company, the Roman Catholic Church, Hotchkiss & Merriman Manufacturing

Company, the Congregational Church, the new Church of St. John's, Manhan

Manufacturing Company, Waterville Manufacturing Company, and Brown

Brothers Brass Rolling Mill.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 35 1/4 x 51in. (89.5 x 129.5cm) Sheet (height x width): 39 5/8 x 53 1/4in. (100.6 x 135.3cm)