Medium Photography; gelatin silver emulsion on plastic

Description View of a dirt road in front of a large brick building that is at least three stories tall. The building has lots of windows. There is an open-top car parked, facing the camera, in front of an awning by the entrance. One man walks down the steps that are under the awning, toward the car. One man stands next to the car and three more are sitting or standing in the car. The man standing and two of the men in the car wear coon-skin caps.
