

Basic Detail Report

Title 42nd Street Signs

Date 1972

Primary Maker Richard Welling

Medium Drawing; black ink and colored markers on paper

Description Drawing of the signs on 42nd Street in New York City. From left to right, they advertise the National Hotel; Miller; True cigarettes; a sugar-free, calorie-free drink; Nedicks; two bookstores; and the Amsterdam theater. There are many pedestrians on the sidewalks and two automobiles and a bus on the street. The McGraw-Hill building is visible on the right.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 13 5/8 x 21 1/2in. (34.6 x

54.6cm) Sheet (height x width): 13 5/8 x 21 1/2in. (34.6 x 54.6cm)