Title Low-Rise Buildings on a Street

Date 1971

Primary Maker Richard Welling

Medium Drawing; black ink and colored markers on paper

Description Drawing of an unidentified street with two low-rise buildings on it, one housing a tax firm and the other divided between what appears to be a clothing store and what might be a laundry. There is a pole with street signs on it in the foreground and a lamppost in front of the building on the right. Two automobiles are parked on the street, and two pedestrians are depicted.
