Basic Detail Report

Title Steamboat River Belle departing from Wilson Point, Norwalk

Date 1882

Primary Maker Unknown

Medium Photography; albumen print on paper

Description The sidewheel steamboat at left has the name "River Belle" painted on its side. At the right, on a dock is a two-story building with a cupola and a projecting porch, probably a passenger terminal. The one-story building beside it appears to be a warehouse or freight terminal. A stone pier is on the right. A small skiff and a rowboat are tied to pilings.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (overall height x width): 4 5/16 x 6 11/16in. (11 x 17cm)