Description Large brick and stone industrial building surrounded by an iron fence. Most of the building appears to be four or five stories high. The corner tower has round arched windows on the first and fifth stories and a small classical porch with Doric columns. A sign on the corner of the building reads: "Employment Office / Hartford Machine Screw Co." Several windows have striped awnings. Ivy grows on much of the building. An automobile and a small truck are parked by the sidewalk and a fire hydrant is near the corner.
