Title Unknown man with a snapping turtle, Danbury.

Date about 1888

Primary Maker N. T. Bulkley

Medium Photography; albumen print on paper on cabinet card mount

Description A man sits on a wooden box, probably a live-specimen shipping case. He holds a large snapping turtle by the hind legs. The turtle is hanging from a rope attached to its tail. The man has a mustache, is smoking a pipe, and wears a cap. A watermelon is on the ground at the left. Large rocks are in the background.
