

Basic Detail Report

Title Looking west across Bushnell Park, Hartford

Date 1872

Medium Drawing; pencil and ink wash on wove paper

Description Commercial and residential structures bordering the grass and trees of Bushnell Park. In the center is a brick circular structure with many gables, cupola, and pointed roof, the Hartford- New Haven Railroad roundhouse. Train cars are on the tracks. In the background are houses. To the right is the Hartford Public High School with dormers, cupola, and turret with clock and Victorian houses. The dark area in the center of the scene is probably the Park River. On the left near elm trees is a stone semi-circular monument.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (overall height x width): 6 11/16 x 10 5/8in. (17 x 27cm)