Basic Detail Report

Title Doll's Bloomers

Date 1899-1908

Medium linen; cotton

Description A doll's bloomers that was used as a teaching aid in a sewing course taught by Caroline Huntington in Hartford Public Schools, 1899-1908. The bloomers are made of cream linen and has a ruched waist. The leg hems are ruffled and lined with a scallopped edge. There is a button on each side of the waist for closure.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (length): 13in. (33cm)