

Basic Detail Report

Title Man's Uniform Pants

Date 1951-1953

Primary Maker Mitchell Arron

Medium Cotton, brass

Basic Detail Report

Description U. S. Army enlisted man's olive drab cotton herringbone twill combat fatigue trousers (a) with tan canvas and brass woven belt (b), likely M-

1943, worn by Mitchell Arron in the Korean War. (a) The trousers have a button fly front closure with 6 metal US Army 13-star buttons and two cargo pockets, one per side, with US Army 13-star button closures. There are stains and signs of wear on the trousers including a repair made to the rear.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (waist circumference x inseam): 34 × 33in.

(86.4 × 83.8cm)