

Basic Detail Report

Title Children during Korean War, 1952-1953

Date 1952-1953

Primary Maker Edward J. Rogalski

Medium Photography

Description A negative strip with images of children, likely Korean, outdoors during the Korean War, 1952-1953. (.11) A portrait of a young boy standing outdoors in front of a bush. The child is wearing white shorts, a short sleeve button down shirt that is opened, and no shoes. He poses with his hands behind his back. Behind him in the distance is a small house that is surrounded by trees. (.12) A portrait of a young boy standing outdoors in front of a bush. He poses with both of his hands on his button up shirt. (.13) Three children standing in a field. The boy on the left is wearing a white shirt, a long-sleeve jacket, pants, and a hat. He poses with his arms resting in his pant pockets. The boy in the middle of the group is wearing a short-sleeve button down shirt that is opened. The girl on the right is wearing a short white sleeve top and a skirt. Behind them are trees and tall grass. (.14) Portrait of a young girl standing in a rocky path of a field. She is wearing a short white sleeve top, a skirt, and no shoes. Behind is a back view of two people walking in the tall grass. One of them is carrying a large basket on their head. (.15) A view of several young boys under a tree in a field.