Date 1923 - 1930

Primary Maker Unknown

Medium Photography; color photograph on paper

Description View of a man, probably Horace Bushnell Cheney, Jr., dressed in a military or nobleman's costume. He is wearing a beige coat that has a tall standing collar and gold braid on the shoulders and chest, over a white shirt and cravat. There is a powdered wig on his head. The subject is turned slightly to the right. The subject's eyes and lips have been hand colored. There is a blue circle on the cravat which may be a hand-colored brooch. Horace Bushnell Cheney, Jr. directed the Jitney Players, a traveling theater troupe. This may be a picture of him in costume for one of their performances.
