Description Audio file of interview with Josh Sommers. He was interviewed by Satwik Padhi on October 7, 2025 in Hartford, Connecticut. Josh Sommers was interviewed as part of the Connecticut Museum of Culture and History's Community History Project discussing moments of change in his life. During the interview, Josh Sommers describes his study abroad experience in Brazil, which was a significant moment of change in his life. Josh opted to study abroad in Brazil because he wanted to study and perform music while living there. While in Brazil, he had to adjust to its culture and food. Josh shares about his experience visiting the city of Salvador, where he struggled with the language barrier. Josh recalls that the Brazilian people were very kind to him. Josh describes his experience studying at the federal university of the state of Bahia (UFBA). While studying abroad, he participated in some of the voluntary activities arranged through the school, including a trip to Rio de Janeiro, where he noticed the cultural differences between Salvador and Rio de Janeiro. After returning to the U.S.A, Josh felt a sense of personal growth from his many new experiences in Brazil.
