Medium Drawing; pencil, watercolor, and gouache on brown paper on cardboard

Description Drawing of a fishing scene. On the foreground is a young man wearing a straw hat, black overall, and white undershirt. He sits bare feet and knee bent on an unidentified black circular shape. The young man is holding a fishing rod that curves sharply downward as he caught a large speckled fish, which may be a trout. Behind the young man are two older men standing. They are dressed in traditional fishing gear; one wears a dark coat and bowler hat, while the other is in a brighter yellow raincoat, but both wear a yellow satchel and have their fishing rods to their shoulders. The two men are smoking pipes and are sharing or comparing their large colorful caught fish. The back of the drawing contains the start of a sketch of a house.
